

santa fe circle

santa fe • taos

a view of northern new mexico

art • museums • jewelry • fashion • home furnishings • dining • special places

JAMIE KIRKLAND

Artist Profile

By Meredith Banks

Evoking the light and joy of the natural world Jamie Kirkland's paintings invite you to let go of your surroundings and be present in her world of beauty. You slip easily into her environment of light dappled earth and hushed sky or trees heavy with foliage and slow moving tranquil rivers. We follow her winding paths falling happily into the soothing color and wonder of all that delights and inspires us about nature. Heart-opening, peaceful and transcendent are words that have been used to describe Jamie Kirkland's newest paintings.

"I always wonder if people want a more intellectual art speak than what I offer up," Jamie speculates. "Though I've been told the paintings are elegant and sophisticated it's the feeling of the work, the color and the harmony that are most important to me right now. There is a lot of theory and technique used in the making of the paintings yet I treasure the words of collectors who discuss their tranquility and magical feeling. I am grateful that people tend to come back to purchase a third or fourth painting."

"Jamie Kirkland is a most beloved rising star here at the gallery," says Karla Winterowd director of Winterowd Fine Art. "All of Jamie's collectors are dazzled by her interpretation of the untouched landscape... Her buttery surface and calming brushstroke make these gorgeous paintings easy to escape into."

Top image: Winding Ridge, 48 x 60 inches, oil on canvas

Bottom image: Equanimity, 30 x 60 inches, oil on canvas

Jamie Kirkland is represented by Winterowd Fine Art , and has exhibited in museums and in galleries across the U.S.